NGI Subscriber User Guides:
Shale Daily: Subscription & Data Access

Login: For NGI Site Access, always make sure you are logged in. The red boxes at top right depict both situations - the top is what a non-logged-in user will see, while the bottom shows what you will see after a successful login. The login box is found at the top right-hand corner of every page on our website. If you’re uncertain of your login credentials, first review our help docs entitled “How to Log Into the NGI Website” and if still unsure, read “How to Get Help from NGI”

Basic Access: The smaller blue box above shows how to get to the Shale Daily area of our website from our homepage (www.naturalgasintel.com). You can either click “Shale Daily” directly or hover over it for a list of content options. Shortcut: If you hover over MY NGI WELCOME, you will see a dropdown list. Clicking any option will take you there directly.
NGI Subscriber User Guides:
Shale Daily: Subscription & Data Access

You’ll now see the screen at right. The red box highlights current Shale Daily coverage, which will always be ordered by most recent. Clicking will allow you to view and download that Shale Daily PDF issue. The dropdown can be used to select other Shale Daily issues from the past 30 days.

The blue box (Subscriber Content) at bottom right of the graphic is your portal to the latest Shale Basin Prices and another link to today’s Shale Daily PDF (Current Issue). Both the PDF and the prices will update automatically each day. You must be logged in to access these resources.

The purple box (Premium Content) at bottom right highlights Shale Daily subscription add-ons - If these options do not work for you, please ask your point of contact. Shale Price Data Feed users to download daily prices directly as CSV files, while Shale Price Historical Data allows users to download Historical Shale prices based on regions and date range.
NGI Subscriber User Guides: Shale Daily: Subscription & Data Access

Shale Daily also comes with another add-on feature - Historical Shale Data Downloads. You can navigate to them by hovering over “Data” (thin red box below) and then clicking on “Gas Price Snapshots” (thicker red box).

If you have interest in expanded information regarding NGI’s Prices and how they are created, please navigate to “NGI Shale Price Methodology” (purple box), which will allow you to download the full PDF.
NGI Subscriber User Guides:
Shale Daily: Subscription & Data Access

Once you’ve navigated to the Gas Price Snapshots, you’ll want to scroll down until you see the “Download Historical Data” bar shown below (purple box). This is an add-on to your standard Shale Daily subscription. If you don’t have access to this feature and would like to, please contact your subscriptions manager.

Below the Price Snapshots, you’ll see the “Download Historical Data” button (purple box). Click that to bring up the Query Tool. Simply select the points you’d like (green box), move them over with the right arrow, and then set your date range (red box). You can select up to 5 points at a time for view / download.

To add NGI’s Shale Daily to your subscription package:
Email: sales@naturalgasintel.com
Call: 703.318.8848