NGI Subscriber User Guides:
Mexico GPI: Subscription & Data Access

Login: For NGI Site Access, always make sure you are logged in. The red boxes at top right depict both situations - the top is what a non-logged-in user will see, while the bottom shows what you will see after a successful login. The login box is found at the top right-hand corner of every page on our website. If you’re uncertain of your login credentials, first review our help docs entitled “How to Log Into the NGI Website” and if still unsure, read “How to Get Help from NGI”

Basic Access: The smaller blue box above shows how to get to the Mexico GPI area of our website from our homepage (www.naturalgasintel.com). You can either click “Mexico GPI” directly or hover over it for a list of content options. Shortcut: If you hover over MY NGI WELCOME, you will see a dropdown list. Clicking any option will take you there directly.

You’ll now see the screen at right. The red box highlights current Mexico GPI coverage, which will always be ordered by most recent. Clicking will allow you to view and download that Mexico GPI PDF issue. The dropdown can be used to the most recent 20 issues of Mexico GPI.

The blue box (Subscriber Content) at bottom right of the graphic is your portal to the wide variety of Mexico GPI charts NGI offers. All charts are included with all Subscriptions, as well as the Mexico GPI PDF (Current Issue).

The purple box (Premium Content) at bottom right highlights Mexico GPI subscription add-ons - If these options do not work for you, please ask your point of contact. These options allow users to directly download NGI’s Mexico Excel-readable datafeed files directly.
